   Report of Regulatory Counsel - Statement of Policy 20
     Against Conversion Therapy
21
   [Cynthia K. Montgomery, Esquire, Deputy Chief
   Counsel, Counsel Division, Department of State, noted 22
23
   the Governor's Office recently requested relevant 24
   boards to consider adopting a Statement of Policy 25
   that would condemn the discredited practice of

conversion therapy, also known as reparative therapy or sexual orientation change efforts, specifically with regard to minors.

Ms. Montgomery mentioned that Ms. Wolfgang drafted the Statement of Policy presented for consideration, which notifies the public and the regulated community of the Board's stance on conversion therapy, and engaging in conversion therapy with minors may lead to disciplinary actions for licensees.

Chair Erickson commented that it was his understanding that it was an unenforceable policy but may now lead to an enforcement action.

Ms. Montgomery noted that a Statement of Policy is only binding on the Board that promulgates it. She stated it is essentially saying that the Board considers conversion therapy to be unprofessional conduct and may result in discipline. She mentioned that the prosecution division would have to bring a case before the Board for the Board to determine whether the situation merited disciplinary action.

Ms. Montgomery stated it is basically a public statement from the Board condemning conversion therapy and letting the public and licensees know that engaging in this practice may lead to a disciplinary action.

Dr. McAleer asked whether the policy would then be cited as evidence of their infraction if someone was brought before the Board because of a question concerning their practice of this technique or series of techniques.

Ms. Montgomery explained that it would not be considered evidence and is a statement of the Board condemning the practice and letting people know that they could be charged. She stated the charges would be most likely unprofessional conduct or unethical conduct, and the prosecution division would have to bring evidence before the Board, including an expert witness to testify as to why conversion therapy is below the standard of care or that it constitutes unprofessional or unethical conduct.

Dr. McAleer commented that the statement itself would not be considered evidence of a failure to meet the standard, but the person being investigated would have to follow the standard of care of the profession, which is established by the American Psychological Association (APA).

Ms. Montgomery noted Dr. McAleer to be correct, noting the APA has specifically condemned the practice as well.

Chair Erickson commented that it would be enforceable then.

Ms. Montgomery stated it would be enforceable to the degree that they would actually be enforcing the statute and the regulations of the Board regarding disciplinary action for unprofessional or unethical conduct.

Chair Erickson wanted to make it clear that there is pending federal litigation regarding these types of bans across the country and a current circuit split based on First Amendment concerns.

Ms. Walter mentioned that the cases pending involve a local ordinance and one may be legislation. She noted this is a policy statement, and the burden would be on prosecution to show that the licensee violated the provisions of the Board's regulations for the act through expert testimony. She stated it would ultimately be the Board's decision whether or not to impose a disciplinary action.

Ms. Wolfgang suggested the Board review the Statement of Policy as a notice to licensees regarding what the Board would do if a case were to come before it. She mentioned that it is just putting it out to licensees so that they understand how the Board would handle a case like this.

Dr. McAleer asked whether Ms. Wolfgang is saying that this is considered an advisory opinion.

Ms. Wolfgang stated it is not an advisory opinion but is more of a notice of what the Board would do.

Chair Erickson asked what type of discipline the Board would do and under what authority would the Board have for disciplining those psychologists.

Ms. Walter stated it would be looked at as any other standard of care or unprofessional conduct case, where expert witnesses would be brought in and the circumstances of each individual case, where both the patient and the licensee would be examined individually.

Chair Erickson commented that it would be under the standard of care unprofessional conduct provision in the regulations and would be enforceable.

Ms. Wolfgang noted that it is enforceable to the extent that a case is brought under those provisions and sufficient evidence is presented. The Board would then make that decision. She mentioned that it is notifying individuals that if a licensee is providing conversion therapy that the Board would find it to be a violation of its professional and ethical regulations. She commented that the Statement of Policy is not enforceable but their regulations are enforceable.

Chair Erickson wanted to make it clear that the policy is a content-based restriction on speech.

Ms. Wolfgang mentioned that it should not be looked at as a ban, but a notice informing their licensee population of how the Board would handle such a case that comes before it. She mentioned that it says may discipline, so the Board still retains its ability to look at each case individually.

Mr. Anderson stated the Department of Health put out prescribing guidelines in certain circumstances several years ago. He noted the boards adopted them, and they tend to be more of an example of notification to the members of their profession, indicating the best practice or standard of care in their profession.

Mr. Anderson noted the concept of the policy statements would be similar, where it opines the appropriate level of practice in their profession. He stated prosecution bringing a case that they believed was disciplinable would have to be considered unprofessional conduct by being substandard or not ethical.

Mr. Anderson noted that things are not specifically itemized in their regulations, including this portion, and an expert would have to explain that it does not meet the appropriate standard of care of the professional, is outside of what would normally be practiced in the profession, and is either unethical or unprofessional.

Mr. Anderson mentioned it is not a specific statement that it is automatically a violation, but is a statement more so of what they consider to be best practices, where it may be prosecuted but would have to be reviewed and opined by an expert. The Board would be able to consider whether it believed it to be a true violation.

Chair Erickson commented that it is generally the case that charges are brought forward when a psychologist performs below the standard of care given an expert's opinion to prosecution.

Mr. Anderson stated prosecution has prosecutorial discretion, where they can review the case to determine whether it is or not. He mentioned that prosecution can take it to an expert for review if they have suspicions, where the expert on many occasions could say, no, it does not fall below the standard of care or outside the level of practice, and then the Board would never see the case.

Mr. Anderson stated prosecution has to have sufficient evidence and belief that they could actually prosecute and win before bringing a case before the Board. He noted the Board would not see a case if an expert did not indicate the prosecution had sufficient evidence. He mentioned that it would be up to the Board to decide if it believed the credibility of the expert and if the case was disciplinable.

Ms. Harrison commented that all of the things being said about someone bringing a case against a clinician can still occur outside of this policy moving forward, where the policy has no effect on how people will govern themselves moving forward.

Mr. Anderson noted that to be correct. He again referred to the Department of Health (DOH) prescribing guidelines. He stated they were primarily already considered best practices in the profession. He explained that DOH, because of the opioid epidemic, was trying to make it more open to the profession and members of the general public so they could be more informed.]

14 | [Jacqueline A. Wolfgang, Esquire, Regulatory Counsel,

15 noted the Board voted to send the annex for 16A-6327

16 regarding the Psychological Clinical Science

17 | Accreditation System (PCSAS) out as an exposure draft

19 after the 30-day comment period.

20 Ms. Wolfgang provided the preamble for the 21 Board's review and consideration and asked for a vote

22 to approve the regulation and move it through the

23 regulatory process.]

24 MS. WALTER:

25 I believe the Board would entertain a

16 1 motion to approve the proposed 2 rulemaking at 16A-6327 and move the 3 regulation through the regulatory 4 process. 5 ACTING COMMISSIONER CLAGGETT: So moved. 6 7 DR. MCALEER: 8 Second. 9 MR. LEECH: 10 Dr. Erickson, aye; Commissioner 11 Claggett, aye; Dr. McAleer, aye; Dr. 12 Bradley, aye; Ms. Harrison, aye; Dr. 13 Maynard, aye. 14 [The motion carried unanimously.] 15 16 Report of Regulatory Counsel - 16A-6317 (Continuing 17 Education) 18 [Jacqueline A. Wolfgang, Esquire, Regulatory Counsel, 19 referred to 16A-6317 regarding the continuing 20 education regulation discussed at the last meeting.

21 She reminded everybody how to read the annex, where anything underlined is new proposed language and 22

23 anything with brackets would be deleted.

24 Ms. Wolfgang reported making all of the revisions

25 discussed at the last meeting. She wanted to clarify a few issues. She noted the addition of the definition of synchronous and asynchronous to the definition of distance education. She asked whether the Board would like to continue with the standard it has for home study and have that same standard, noting the standard is in § 41.59(e). She also noted highlighted text shows changes made based on prior discussions.

Ms. Wolfgang noted the addition of the carryover provision to page four of the annex. She referred to $ 41.59, noting the Board is proposing that contact hours for continuing education courses used to reactivate a license in accordance with subsection (i) may not thereafter be used to satisfy the requirements for biennial renewal. She asked whether they should also be talking about reinstatement, and Bord members agreed.

Ms. Wolfgang referred to § 41.59(e) regarding distance education, noting the term home study would be changed to distance education. She mentioned that the exposure draft that went out did not include the 100% online continuing education concept and asked whether the Board would be in favor of an additional exposure draft to make sure they expose that concept to the stakeholders, and Board members agreed.

Ms. Wolfgang referred to subsection (f) paragraph four, where the Board is adding, a sponsor shall maintain documentation substantiating the teacher or instructor's education and experience. She asked for insight as to why Board members would need to maintain the teacher's qualifications.

Dr. McAleer believed it had to do with being a continuing education sponsor and being consistent with the guidelines of the American Psychological Association. He noted there are requirements from the American Psychological Association about the qualifications of the presenter, where additional language was added, including being able to demonstrate research supporting what they will be discussing.

Molly Cowan, Psy.D., Director of Professional Affairs, Pennsylvania Psychological Association, believed Dr. McAleer's inference is correct and would be her interpretation as well.

Ms. Wolfgang referred to subsection (i) and asked whether the Board wanted to require suspended and revoked individuals to complete continuing education (CE) while they are suspended or revoked.

Ms. Wolfgang noted it sounds like they are completing CE while suspended or revoked and asked whether it should read that they complete the education that would have been required under subsection (b) had the individual maintained current licensure as opposed to completing CE while they are suspended or revoked. She suggested language instead of what is in the current annex.

Dr. Maynard stated the Board requires CE to be met in order for reinstatement and not during suspension. He noted the suggested the language change was fine.

Ms. Wolfgang referred to subsection (e) and asked whether the Board agreed with the concept of having the same standard for both synchronous and asynchronous, which would be a psychologist may accrue all of the required contact hours in distance education courses offered by approved sponsors as long as the course has specific learning objectives and the sponsor evaluates the extent of learning that has taken place. Board members agreed.

Ms. Wolfgang informed Board members that she would make the minor revisions discussed, but wanted to send an exposure draft between now and the next Board meeting. She asked for a vote to approve the annex for distribution as an exposure draft with those amendments.]

1 MS. WALTER:

I believe the Board would entertain a

3 motion to approve the annex for distribution of an exposure draft with discussed today during public session.

18 | [Jacqueline A. Wolfgang, Esquire, Regulatory Counsel,

19 noted the Board voted on the accreditation

20 regulation, and she still needed to prepare a

21 Regulatory Analysis Form for the Independent

22 Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). She mentioned

23 it needed a little more work but hoped to get that

24 out by the next meeting.

25 Ms. Walter referred to agenda item 14 regarding review of supervisory requirements. She noted Board members would like to explore modernizing the supervision requirements and making them consistent with the practices in other states, which would require a regulatory change.

Ms. Wolfgang believed that the matter was addressed in the general revisions. She mentioned needing to do more work before presenting it to the Board and offered to provide information for the following meeting.

Dr. McAleer stated he wanted to look at some of the requirements, like the mandate that information come in a signed envelope, sessions having to be reviewed, actual audio or video or verbatim transcripts, 2 hours of individual versus 2 hours of other types of combinations of supervision, and quarterly reports versus twice a year.

Dr. McAleer mentioned that all of those would be important updates to their regulations, noting they are behind other jurisdictions and adding extra burdens on trainees.

Ms. Wolfgang explained that those issues could definitely be addressed in the proposed annex.]
